

JEFFREY P. KOPLAN

SECTION A: INDIVIDUAL INFORMATION

A.1. Personal Information

Name	Jeffrey P. Koplan, MD, MPH
Post or Position	Senior Advisor for Global Health; Professor of Medicine and Global Health
Employer, Research Institution or Affiliation	Emory University, United States

A.2. Short Biography

Jeffrey Koplan is Senior Advisor for Global Health at Emory. In 2006, he founded the Emory Global Health Institute (EGHI) and served as director until 2013. He is also the co-founder of the International Association of National Public Health Institutes (IANPHI) and principal investigator of the Global Health Institute-Child Health and Mortality Prevention Surveillance (CHAMPS) network.

Koplan's career in public health has spanned over 50 years, including serving as director of the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) from 1998-2002. He has worked on the full spectrum of global health issues, including infectious, non-communicable, environmental and occupational, child health, health services research and health sciences education.

He is a member of the National Academy of Medicine (NAM/IOM), a Master of the American College of Physicians and has been awarded several honorary degrees, the Friendship Award of the People's Republic of China and Honorary Advisor #001 of the China CDC. He has authored over 240 scientific publications.

SECTION B: DISCLOSURES

B.1. Financial Interests

None

B.2. Other Real or Potential Conflicts of Interest

None